

MRS. JETER HOSTESS
AT BRIDGE PARTY

Mrs. H. Jeter was hostess at a delightful bridge party in her home on Simmons Street Wednesday afternoon, September 28th, when her guests were members of her bridge club and several other friends.

Fall garden flowers, golden rod and pot plants were combined in attractive decorations about the living room and dining room used in entertaining.

The guests were seated at three card tables laid with dainty covers and centered with small crystal vases of coral vine, where the delicious salad course with ice cream was served preceding the delightful series of progressive.

Those playing were: Mrs. Rosine Harwell, Mrs. Bessie Hutchison, Mrs. Claude Dorsey, Mrs. Thomas Ward, Mrs. Mose Hammon, Mrs. F. H. Murphy, Mrs. C. E. Dorsey, Mrs. Roy Ellis, Mrs. W. C. McVeyre, Miss Nettie Flournoy, Miss Zula Row and Mrs. H. Jeter.

METHODIST W. M. S. MEETS
WITH MRS. RAINIER

The W. M. S. of the Methodist Church was delightfully entertained for the regular fourth Monday Mission program and social meeting in the home of Mrs. L. S. Rainier, with Mrs. J. M. Marsh and other hostesses.

A collection of summer flowers, with roses and queen's wench predominating, was tastefully arranged about the living room and dining room.

The meeting was opened by the group singing "All Hail The Power of Jesus Name" after which Mrs. W. R. Crook led the prayer.

Proceeding the program, Mrs. J. M. Rowe, president, conducted a short business session when reports were made by various Superintendents and officers. It was decided to begin the fall mission study, "Through Tragedy to Triumph" by Basil Matthews, on the first Monday in October, the meeting to be held in the home of Mrs. F. H. Murphy.

The zone meeting to be held in New Brockton Friday, September 29, was discussed and plans made for members of the society to attend.

Reports from the District meeting in Laverne September 18th were made by Mrs. C. C. Vickers, Mrs. Corrie Bryant and Mrs. J. M. Rowe.

At the conclusion of the tour, Mrs. A. C. French, leader of the afternoon's program, gave the devotional from Ephesians 3: 14-21. Mrs. L. S. Rainier discussed "New Horizons on Home Mission Service," talking briefly on Alaska, Porto Rico, Honolulu and Santa Domingo.

"Blest Be The Tie That Binds" was then sung and the meeting dismissed with the "Watchword."

An added feature of the social hour was shower of lovely gifts for Mrs. C. C. Colquitt, a recent bride. The guests were then invited into the dining room where punch and sandwiches were served from a lace covered table beautifully appointed.

Those present were: Mrs. Kline Bentley, Mrs. W. M. Sanders, Mrs. Thomas Ward, Mrs. W. R. Crook, Mrs. J. M. Rowe, Mrs. C. C. Colquitt, Mrs. Dana Perdue, Mrs. L. S. Rainier, Mrs. Levy Morrow, Mrs. L. L. Harper, Mrs. Mayo Prescott, Mrs. Price Ringo, Mrs. Roberta Childs, Mrs. F. H. Murphy, Mrs. Felix Morrow, Mrs. J. M. Garrett, Mrs. A. C. French, Mrs. J. M. Marsh, Mrs. A. C. Dunaway, Mrs. J. C. Vickers, Mrs. Arden Bradley, Mrs. Corrie Bryant, and one visitor, Mrs. Hollingsworth, of LaFayette.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mayes were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Brunson Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Mullins and children spent Sunday in Daleville guests of relatives.

Mrs. Gertrude Page Owen,
Execlutrix.

By L. L. STEVENSON

During the recent visit of Crown Prince Frederik and Crown Princess Ingrid of Denmark, an incident occurred which I believe could happen nowhere except in America. Months ago, Al Smith, through the Danish Consul General, Georg Berch, extended an invitation to the prince and princess to see New York from the tower of the Empire State building. The invitation was accepted and on the day set, the prince and princess and the consul general and his wife arrived. It happened, however, that that day the ex-governor was out on the Pacific coast attending the Al Smith day at the Golden Gate exposition. So Mrs. Julia Chandler, who is in charge of the observatory, acted as hostess and in the course of time, the party saw all of the tower, even making a stop on the 103rd floor terrace which is closed to ordinary visitors.

At the conclusion of the tour, Mrs. Chandler stopped at the observatory department to make gifts of alligator-skin compacts to the princess and the wife of the Danish general. Right after the presentation, a pretty young girl came up and while Mrs. Chandler was talking to her, Miss Alice Carlson, who was born in Stockholm, Sweden, and is hostess of one of the tea rooms. As is well known, Sweden is the home of the wife of the crown prince, and it was Miss Carlson's timely put was to be allowed to speak to the princess.

"Naturally, the permission was granted at once." Then followed the unusual scene of a working girl from her own country welcoming Princess Ingrid to this working girl's adopted country.

The princess was charming. Mrs. Chandler reported, and talked with Miss Carlson longer than she did with any member of the party except her hostess. She asked Miss Carlson if she were an American citizen and Miss Carlson, who has been here nine years, replied that she wasn't but hoped to be. Miss Carlson also told the princess all about the observatory and how she never tires of the views, enjoying them even on cloudy days. To that the princess replied that she never had had a more thrilling experience and that she would not have known what New York was really like had she not seen it from the tower. And when they parted, a princess shook hands with a working girl.

Needless to state, the whole experience was quite a thrill for Miss Carlson. How much of a thrill the actual meeting really was may be gauged from the fact that on the night Lauritz Melchior, of the Metropolitan, gave an after-opera supper for the prince and princess, Miss Carlson went to the Grapsholm restaurant just so that she might catch one glimpse of Frederik and Ingrid.

A recent survey disclosed the fact that Columbia university students who attempted to finance their own education did so in such varied ways as acting as an audience at a dedication, counting the number and kind of weeds on Long Island, walking dogs and watching babies, as well as looking after pets while owners were out to movies. In addition, they entertained guests on a yacht, gave impersonations at parties and aided those whose contract bridge was of the kind that makes partners see red. Judging contests, speaking in high schools and teaching Sunday school also helped.

Tutoring furnished the greatest number of jobs, about 800 students receiving from $1 to $8 an hour for such work. Tutoring varied widely also. While most of it had to do with higher education there was one job of teaching an 86-year-old woman arithmetic. She wanted to keep track of her sons who run her business for her.

A group of slow people were discussing the present day crop of song writers and soon the conversation centered on one composer. "I think," remarked Al Donahue, band leader, "that his songs will live after him."

"I don't know about that," offered Genevieve Rowe, soprano, "but they certainly did live before him." (Bell Syndicate—WNU Service.)

Famous Comstock Bar
To Go on Auction Block

SAN FRANCISCO.—The famous long, mahogany bar of the equally famous Comstock room of the Palace hotel, which had existed for years before the San Francisco earthquake and fire, is to be sold at auction—crowded out by the "electric eye."

Situated on one of the upper floors of the hotel the bar was frequented by almost every celebrity that came to San Francisco. Now, patrons prefer a bar on the ground floor where an "electric eye" sends a beam that automatically opens the door for them.

FIDDLER'S CONVENTION and Cake Walk at Kinston High School Friday night, September 29, beginning at 7:30. Prizes for fiddlers, and plenty of fun for everybody. Be sure to come. —adv.

Mrs. Annie King and Miss Anita King were Elba visitors Sunday.

Marvin Vickers, who has been the guest of his parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Vickers, for several weeks, left Monday for Atlanta to resume his studies at Emory University.

Late news from the bedside of Mr. D. J. Brooks at Piedmont Hospital in Atlanta, is that his condition remains unchanged. Friends here and throughout the county trust that he may soon be on the road to recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Frazer, of LaFayette, were guests of Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Ringsdorf and family during the week-end.

2,000 PRODUCTS ARE MANU-
FACTURED IN ALABAMA

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 22.—From soup to nuts, from baby cribs to marble monuments, from anchors to audions, over 2,000 products produced and manufactured in Alabama were listed today in a "retail buyers guide" issued by the State Chamber of Commerce.

Don Russell, State Chamber President, described the guide as part of his organization's "Buy Alabama" campaign. He said it was the first effort ever made to compile a list of all Alabama products that go into retail trade.

"We realize," Russell added, "that Alabama cannot live on itself alone."

"We need the products of other states and we need the markets these other states provide for our products. But Alabama by learning to know and use the products of their own industries, can have a definite part in building Alabama. Such practice not only will support existing industries but will encourage establishment of new industries."

"Most Alabamians, we feel, are convinced of the soundness of this 'Buy Alabama' drive. But heretofore they have had no way of learning the trade names of the many Alabama products. This handy manual supplies this information and should result in substantial increase in the sale of Alabama made goods."

Are you proud of Elba? Then help to make it more beautiful by cleaning up your premises. You can also help by urging others to clean up vacant lots, side streets, and even back yards.

Fresh-peeled banana's dipped thoroughly into chocolate may be kept in the refrigerator for several days.

A convenient filling system for flower and vegetable seeds may be made in the fall by guing six match boxes, three boxes high and two wide; label each box with the name of the seeds that go in it.

Use Sodium Flouride or Black Leaf Forty for control of poultry lice.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY.
